

Get Our “White Glove Service”

A Fire & Life Safety Training Platform—Personalized to You

In the fire and life safety industry, being skilled and well-informed in what you do is critical to protecting life and property within the communities you serve. Your success in accomplishing both comes down to how well you and your technicians are trained on the products, equipment, and systems you sell and service. It's even more important than that—it's what your customers expect and what you've devoted a lifetime to doing.

At the FED Learning Center, we understand this better than anyone other than yourself. We've built a Training Platform to help you acquire all of the knowledge and skill sets you and your technicians need. From Fire Extinguishers and Commercial Kitchen Systems to Emergency Lighting, Fire Alarms, Security Systems, and more, we offer comprehensive training prioritized and personalized to your particular needs. Our “white glove” approach is all about surpassing your expectations.

You just supply a roster and we do the rest, with:

- A web-based Learning Management System
- Company-led, tops-down employee database
- Transparency of all your team's progress
- Reports, virtual manuals, and more—all in one place
- Free membership that includes a deep discount!

With the FED Learning Center as your preferred training provider, you'll discover everything you're looking for—impeccable service tailor-made down to the last detail. No dust here, just real, genuine “white glove” treatment at your service.

To learn more, or sign up, go to <https://fedlearningcenter.com> today.

White Glove Service is no longer Optional.

